Speed camera vans are set to park up to monitor traffic at a new location in Leicestershire.

Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland Safety Camera Scheme has confirmed that from this week a Lutterworth location has been added to its list of sites to visit.

The site, at the A4303 overbridge, has been added as a result of community concerns.

According to the safety camera partnership, such sites are highlighted by the public because of concerns about excessive speed of traffic.

A spokesman said: "The Safety Camera Scheme monitors the site and checks if there have been any collisions in the previous 3 years.

"Where evidence of a significant speeding problem is found, our mobile camera enforcement vans can be deployed to address the problem.

"We also check the collision history of each site we investigate for speeds and most of the community concern sites have had at least 1 injury collision in the last 3 years."
